PRESENTATION

The desire to accompany the development of vital projects for vulnerable people led us to share our knowledge and experience.

IfTL Foundation team has taught several self-transformation programs and accompanied a group of young men and women since August 2019. Within the educational framework of Acoes Foundation in Honduras, ifTL accompanied these men and women during a part of their path in transforming themselves to achieve the challenge of transforming society.

Since that first intervention in 2019, enthusiasm has taken hold of the IfTL Foundation team, which continues with its mission of accompanying the humanistic development of people, especially the youngest and most vulnerable ones.

In 2021, the 3rd edition of the ProAlt program took place in cooperation with Acoes Foundation at its facilities in Honduras.

ProALT is a program for the training and accompaniment of young people between 23 and 34. Applying methodology helps to facilitate personal vital process development through self-knowledge. Additionally, practice is focused on process management, strategies and impact implementation to empower young people in their leadership and train them for self-transformation and the consequent transformation of society.

The beneficiaries have been a total of 25, of which:

ACOES Foundation's mission is to promote and collaborate with initiatives that facilitate the creation and development of living conditions to favour peace, justice, rights, and solidarity as essential to the development of the human being. Its action is located in the most disadvantaged sectors of the population, especially childhood, youth and the disabled, prioritizing education as an effective tool for development.
